Harry -

Ref our meeting with Colonel White this morning. I think that the language might well be read by a Black as not very encouraging. For instance, the words "from time to time" would suggest to me, were I a Black, that the Agency is laying the ground work for rejection by saying "this ain't the time." The last line "interested senior and graduate students" also is not terribly encouraging. Let's see if we can't do better.
